SKEMA Business School awards Mohammed Al Gergawi an Honorary Professorship in Leadership, Public Policy, and Government

SKEMA Business School through Dr. Alice Guilhon, Dean and Executive President of SKEMA Business School has awarded H.E. Mohammed Al Gergawi, Minister of Cabinet Affairs of the United Arab Emirates, an honorary professorship in Leadership, Public Policy, and Government, recognizing his pioneering role in shaping innovative governance models and advancing public sector excellence at both national and international levels.

This distinction reflects SKEMA's commitment to honoring visionary leaders who have made a lasting impact on public policy, governance, and institutional innovation. With this recognition, Al Gergawi joins a distinguished group of global thought leaders celebrated for their contributions to shaping the future of government administration.

Newly established in Dubai International Financial Centre since September 2024, SKEMA's campus strengthens the global educational offering of the business school and its influence in a growing region. As a global city, Dubai will enrich the international and multicultural experience of SKEMA's students from across the world (more than 130 nationalities are represented on SKEMA campuses).
